CAD/CAM for everyone:

Discover what digital dentistry can do for you!

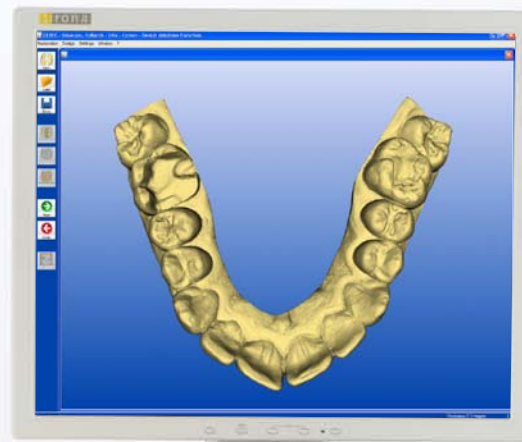

Are you interested in creating beautiful and accurate restorations in your office in just one visit? Maybe you want to learn how to take a digital impression and have your lab create the restoration. Either way, digital CAD/CAM dentistry is accurate, easy to learn and is the "now" of dentistry.

Come learn about CEREC and CAD/CAM dentistry at this event. We will spend the evening discussing how this technology will change the way you do dentistry – for the better. We will discuss the myths that many have heard about CAD/CAM in the past, the amazing advancements in the technology and why digital impressioning is the future of dentistry. We also will help you to understand how this technology will be one of the most profitable tools that you could ever own. Come and discover why CEREC is right for you.

DR. RICH ROSENBLATT

Dr. Rosenblatt graduated from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey in 1997. He completed a GPR at St. Joseph's Medical Center in Reading, Pennsylvania in 1998. He has been practicing in the Chicago area for the last nine years. He is presently the owner of Forest North Dental in Lake Forest, Illinois, a suburban family practice that performs procedures in all facets of dentistry. Dr. Rosenblatt has lectured both nationally and in Canada regarding CEREC and founded the Northern Illinois CEREC Study Club, one of the largest CAD/CAM study clubs in the country. Dr. Rosenblatt is a CEREC in-office trainer for Patterson Dental as well as a beta tester for Sirona. In what remains of his spare time, he enjoys spending it with his wife and three children. He also likes to ski, road bike and sneak in a round of golf when time permits.
